

Simplify Your Life

Organise some friends and enjoy an afternoon with

Margaret Rohan Kelly

as she relates her life experiences and philosophy as a

- Former Miss Australia 1967
 - Mother of eight
 - Intrepid cyclist
- in a humorous, entertaining and inspiring way.

On: Sunday October 5, 2003 at 2.00pm

Where: National Wool Museum, Strachan Theatrette
Cnr Moorabool & Brougham Sts, Geelong

Book: Ph. 5272 1531 - Numbers are limited!

Cost: $10 per person - Afternoon tea provided

- No two people travel the exact same roads in life. Yet Margaret's story, to some degree or another, is the story of every woman's journey.
- Margaret is an outstanding and inspirational speaker with simple but powerful messages. You will be enthused and confident to make genuine changes for the better in your life, both at work and at home.
- In her most recent book "Just the Ten of Us", Margaret writes with great humour and remarkable honesty about the challenges of life in the middle years.
- Margaret's book will be for sale at $25.00 following her presentation. Books purchased on the day will be personally signed.

Supported by

